LONDON, April 16, 6:52 p. m.—News of the opening of the great French offensive has spread like wildfire through the British forces, telegraphs Reuters' correspondent at British headquarters in France today.

Last Minute News

PARIS, April 16.—France's great offensive, tied to synchronize with the British "big push," may now be starting.

Today's official report indicated spread of violent artillery preparations all along the Champagne front; an increase in the French drive toward St. Quentin, more bitter fighting south of the Oise, and a series of terrific smashes far down to the south in Alsace-Lorraine.

Coincidentally the newspaper Le Temps remarked today: "The war movement goes forward soon. Our cannon roar terribly north of Soissons, in Champagne, where numerous reconnaissance raids on the enemy lines have taken numbers of prisoners."

Other Paris newspapers today hinted belief that a French drive was impending.

LONDON, April 16.—In the face of the fiercest opposition yet rallied against the British drive, Field Marshal Haig's forces today battered their way still further around Lens and pushed another wedge to within a mile and a half of the Cambrai-St. Quentin line.

"We progressed to the northwest of Lens," was the British commander-in-chief's laconic comment of that point in the fighting, where British forces have straddled the famous Hindenburg line.

Haig also announced the capture of Villaret, southeast of Hargicourt. Its taking by British troops widens the wedge thrust against the main Hindenburg line of communications from St. Quentin to Cambrai on a front of approximately five miles. Villaret is five miles to the north of Fresnoy-Le-Petit and Pontreux—both already in British hands and both one and one-half miles from the Cambrai-St. Quentin line.

The German defense was centering around Monchy-Le-Preux.

"The enemy attack at Monchy on Saturday," Haig's report asserted today, "was pressed in the most determined manner. The third Bavarian division was again hurled as a reinforcement to the German line and ordered to retake Monchy at all costs. Its losses, like that of other German troops, was exceptionally heavy."

"Estimate of the booty captured at Lievin and along the Souchez river is not available yet, but it was exceedingly large, including some six-inch naval guns and many thousands of rounds of ammunition of all calibers as far as eight-inch guns."

WITTEDRAW SUPPLIES.
Battle front despatches today revealed the wild haste of the German troops to withdraw great supplies of food, ammunition and guns, out of the doomed cities of Lens and St. Quentin. Flames were to be seen in both towns from the British lines now holding the suburbs of both cities—45 miles apart.

Just such attacks as those on Monchy were to be expected from the Germans on the whole British offensive front. Unable to stem the powerful tide of the British advance at the two pivotal cities in their line, Lens and St. Quentin, the Germans were apparently concentrating big forces for counter-attacks at intermediate points.

Occupation of Dixmude by Belgian troops without opposition from the Germans gave hint to experts here today that the Germans may be planning a retirement on a vast scale on the west front. Some believe this.

"Speak, Act, Serve— Supreme Test of Nation Has Come"

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—In a personal appeal addressed tonight to his fellow countrymen, President Wilson calls upon every American citizen—man, woman and child—to join together to make the nation a unit for the preservation of its ideals and for the triumph of democracy in the world war.

"The supreme test of the nation has come," says the address. "We must all speak, act and serve together."

Putting the navy on a war footing and raising a great army are the simplest parts of the great task ahead, the President declares, and he urges all the people; with particular emphasis on his words to the farmers, to concentrate their energies, practice economy, prove unselfishness and demonstrate efficiency. The address follows:

My Fellow Countrymen: The entrance of our beloved country into the grim and terrible war for democracy and human rights, which has shaken the world, creates many problems of national life and action which call for immediate consideration and settlement that I hope you will permit me to address you a few words of earnest counsel and appeal with regard to them.

We are rapidly putting our navy upon an effective war footing and are about to create and equip a great army, but these are the simplest parts of the great task to which we have addressed ourselves.

FIGHT FOR RIGHT. There is not a single selfish element, so far as I can see, in the cause we are fighting for. We are fighting for what we believe and wish to be the rights of mankind and for the future peace and security of the world.

To do this great thing worthily and successfully we must devote ourselves to the service without regard to profit or material advantage and with an energy and intelligence that will rise to the level of the enterprise itself. We must realize to the full how great the task is and how many things, how many kinds and elements of capacity and service and self-sacrifice it involves.

These, then, are the things we must do and do well, besides fighting the things without which mere fighting would be fruitless. We must supply abundant food for ourselves and our armies and our seamen not only, but also for a large part of the nations with whom we have made the common cause, in whose support and by whose sides we shall be fighting.

SUPPLYING OUR ALLIES. We must supply ships by the hundreds out of our shipyards to carry to the other side of the sea, submarines or no submarines, what will every day be needed there, and abundant materials with which we are so rich, and our factories with which not only to clothe and equip our own forces on land and sea, but also to clothe and support our people, for whom the gallant fellows under arms can no longer work, to help clothe and equip the armies with which we are co-operating in Europe, and to keep the looms and manufacturing there in raw materials; coal to keep the fires going in ships at sea and in the furnaces of hundreds of factories across the sea; steel out of which to make arms and ammunition, both here and there; rails for our railways back of the fighting fronts; locomotives and rolling stock to take the place of those every day going to pieces; mules, horses, cattle for labor and for military service everything with which the people of England and France and Italy and Russia have usually supplied themselves, but cannot now afford the men, the materials or the machinery to make.

It is evident to every thinking man that our industries, in farms, in shipyards, in the mines, in the factories, must be made more profitable and more efficient than ever and that they must be more economically managed and better adapted to the particular requirement of our task than they have been; and what I want to say is that the men and the women who devote their thought and their energy to these things will be serving the country and conducting the fight for peace and freedom just as truly and just as effectively as the men on the battlefield or in the trenches.

GREAT SERVICE ARMY. The industrial forces of the country, men and women alike, will be a great national, a great international service army—a notable and honored heat engaged in the service of the nation and the world, the efficient friends and saviors of free men everywhere. Thousands, nay, hundreds of thousands, of men otherwise liable to military service will of right and necessity be excluded from that service and assigned to the fundamental, sustaining work of the fields and factories and mines, and they will be as much part of the great patriotic forces of the nation as the men under fire.

I take the liberty, therefore, of addressing this word to the farmers of the country, and to all who work on the farms: The supreme need of our own nation and of the nations with which we are co-operating is an abundance of supplies, and especially of foodstuffs. The importance of an adequate food supply, espe-

STATE CAPITOL, Sacramento, April 16.—Governor William D. Stephens today issued a proclamation calling on all who can to assist in the food conference to be held for the purpose of aiding in the production and distribution of the State's food supplies during the war crisis. The proclamation of the governor reads:

PROCLAMATION. Whereas, An emergency in our national and state affairs now exists in which it is desirable to have full information concerning the production, distribution and supply of food in the State of California; and

Whereas, The committee on resources and food supply of the state council of defense has directed the department of agriculture, the department of horticulture, health, veterinary, state market director, the United States forestry service and other agencies to hold meetings in the various counties of the state, and to the end that the desired information may be expeditiously obtained;

Therefore, I, William D. Stephens, governor of California, do direct that such hearings be held and I call upon the producers and distributors of foodstuffs to assist the state in the production of foodstuffs in order to attend the conferences at the places and dates between April 16 and 28, already announced in the various counties.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Millions of acres of unutilized public lands in the West and the idle farms of the East and South were pointed to by Secretary Lane in a statement today as places where men who do not enlist for the firing line may serve their country as effectively as they could at the front.

NEED PRODUCING ARMY. "Our people cannot not all be fighters," the secretary said. "We must have in addition to our armies of fighters, armies of producers, to sustain those who struggle and to maintain those for whom they struggle. Men in close touch with the food supply of this country predict that if the present decrease in production keeps up for another year, we will face a serious food famine."

"Two hundred and forty million acres of unutilized public land in the Western States await the coming of the farmers and the herdsmen. Millions of acres of fine farm lands in the Eastern States lie idle through the lack of men to work them. Forty-two millions of our population stifle in crowded cities and complain of the high cost of living."

"Any citizen of the United States who has not already located a home of straight farming land as he wants up to 160 acres in the restricted sections and up to 320 acres in the un-restricted sections. Straight grazing land may be had to the extent of 640 acres."

From Alabama to Alaska land is waiting to be taken up. And with all these resources we face an actual food famine."

WOMEN PLEDGE SUPPORT. SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—Patriotic service in the conservation of the food supply and the prevention of waste is the cause to which more than 40,000 women of the California Federation of Women's Clubs stand pledged today.

The announcement was made by Mrs. Edward D. Knight of San Francisco. She said the women will co-operate with the State Council of Defense. Each club headquarters will be a center for spreading information on defense subjects. Classes will be organized for the study of home gardening, dietetics, garment making, first aid, home nursing and associated subjects. There will probably be a course of lectures, with competent speakers.

A register of women, to show those capable of giving trained services, is another project.

A policy of simplicity in dress and the curtailment of social activities will be adopted.

GERMAN HAND FORESEEN IN PEACE MOVE

Teutons Secretly Aspiring to Revive End-War Agitation in All the Belligerent Countries

Kaiser Asks Truce, But on His Own Terms Amended; Pressure Exerted on Socialists

By Arthur E. Mann,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

COPENHAGEN, April 16.—Germany is secretly seeking to revive peace talk in all belligerent countries. She asks peace—still on her own terms—though doubtless somewhat amended. In December Germany asked peace and was refused. Now she is planning to maneuver the allies into asking her for peace.

The scheme as established by information from high sources here today is an ambitious one and world wide in its scope. Positive confirmation of unofficial overtures from Berlin to the United States as reported in United Press despatches last Thursday was obtained today. The hint came even stronger from German official sources that the United States would do well to send General E. M. House to The Hague for conference with German representatives.

RESTRICTIONS RAISED. The main intrigue, however, whereby Germany hopes to start a movement for her enemies to ask Berlin for peace was apparently being exerted through German Socialists. Suddenly Socialists in the Teutonic empire have become favored individuals. Their leaders have been assiduously cultivated by German officials. The German censorship has been unprecedentedly loosened to permit their communicating with Socialists in such enemy countries as Russia.

Most of all the drastic German rules prohibiting departure of her men from the empire and of holding of communication with enemy citizens has been formally raised to permit departure of Philip Scheidemann and other Socialists for conferences with Socialist comrades of enemy nations.

The Russian government may not be falling in with Germany's intrigue, but certainly Russian ultra-Socialists have been communicating with German Socialists and some Russian radicals have left for conferences with Germans.

PRESSURE ON SOCIALISTS. Germany evidently is exerting tremendous pressure through her Socialists for a separate peace with Russia. That may be the main part of her peace plotting. But the feelers encountered today indicated this as only a part of the German scheme to obtain a strategic position. It was aimed in all the peace "feelers" Germany is carefully avoiding any mention of terms.

In the meanwhile, German newspapers, in obviously inspired articles, are reiterating the fact that Germany cannot make any important concessions from the terms unofficially declared about at the time of Von Bethmann-Hollweg's proffer in December.

The Danish foreign office today formally declared Danish Socialists were not participating in the supposed Socialist conferences.

PARIS, April 16.—A semi-official statement has been issued in Vienna declaring that Austria desires peace with the Russian people and that there is no real obstacle to this aim, according to a Zurich despatch to the Radio Agency.

The despatch quotes a statement issued by a semi-official press bureau of Vienna in which it is said the Austro-Hungarian monarchy has taken note of the recent declaration of the Italian provisional government that it does not seek foreign territory, but desires a durable peace founded on the rights of peoples to dispose of themselves.

The statement says that the Austro-Hungarian empire is inspired by the same desire, and continues: "Therefore, both having common ends, it is not difficult to find means of arriving at accord. This is much less difficult since his majesty the emperor of Austria and king of Hungary, in perfect union with his allies, monarchs, wishes to live in future peace and friendship with the Russian people."

H. C. L. HITS FLAGS. WASHINGTON, April 16.—Senator Pomeroy of Ohio today introduced a resolution calling upon the Federal Trade Commission to investigate the high cost of American flags, resulting from flag manufacturers commercializing patriotism during the war.

The war was declared, the Senate promptly adopted the resolution without objection. Senator Pomeroy told the Senate that flag prices had been advanced from 100 to 250 per cent since the war broke out and that the increased cost might be expected to go as high as 400 per cent.

FOREIGN MINISTER TO MEET PRESIDENT; WILL DISCUSS WAR

ARTHUR J. BALFOUR.

Bryan to Aid U.S. by Urging Conservation

WASHINGTON, April 16.—

William Jennings Bryan paid an unexpected visit to the White House today, and for almost an hour was in consultation with President Wilson.

Out of the conference there developed the strong probability that the former secretary of state will take the stump in the near future to urge upon the people the necessity of observing to the letter the conservation suggestions made by President Wilson in his appeal to the nation. A speaking tour which will carry him from Maine to California, from Canada to the Gulf and into every state in the Union, is planned.

Administration officials accepted Bryan's proffer of help to the government "in any way possible" at its face value. It is realized that he is perhaps closer to the farmers and rural communities generally than any other conspicuous figure in public life. As a "field agent" for the government, urging greater production of crops and greater conservation of food stuffs, he would be of vastly more aid to the government than in any other way.

Bryan reached Washington yesterday, but his presence did not become known until he appeared unexpectedly at the White House this morning. It was learned, however, that since his arrival here he has conferred with at least five members of the cabinet and that the part he is to play as "field agent of conservation" has drawn the unanimous approval of officialdom generally.

"I called upon the President," Bryan said, "to pay my respects and confirm my telegram sent him the day a state of war was declared to exist. I do not care to discuss any question before Congress. Whatever the government does is right, and I shall support any action taken by the government. In war time the President speaks for the whole country, and there should be no division or dissension. I have a number of speaking dates, made before this situation arose. They can be cancelled at any time my services are needed by the government. These meetings give me an opportunity of laying before the audiences I address the part citizens can play in support of the government. I am collecting now from government sources such information as they desire to spread and shall use it both in speeches and in my paper."

BRIDGE IS DOWN. EL PASO, April 16.—A section of the international bridge gave way early today under a crowd of Mexican servants and workmen waiting for the bridge to open. Many were injured, one seriously.

The accident occurred on the foot-bridge paralleling the street car crossing to Juarez. The span which collapsed was on the American side of the border.

PEACE TERMS. Aside from momentous co-operative questions, the issue of peace terms is vital for them.

The allies know each other's terms and they know the broad principles of President Wilson's terms. But these views doubtless will be coordinated in a general agreement as to when America and her allies shall regard Prussianism as obliterated for all time.

Mere discussion of such terms does not mean a peace move. In fact, officials say the nation is in this war to the last drop and discourages any talk that peace is on the horizon. The nation is building a war structure to last at least three years, they emphasize always.

One of the first questions to be taken up with the United States government by Balfour will be arrangements to subject British residents in

Big Bond Issue Reported Out by Committee on the Eve of Actual Operations With Allies

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The British foreign minister, Arthur J. Balfour, has arrived in the United States. Formal announcement that the English statesman will reach here at 5:30 this afternoon was made today in a statement regarding arrangements for a reception at the White House on Wednesday to all the allied commissioners—French and English.

The White House reception of the allied commissioners, it was said, was made on the belief that the French members would arrive before Wednesday.

A conference with the President will be the first of a series of joint meetings devising aid which America will render the allies and the extent of the United States co-operation in military and naval affairs.

With little discussion and no opposition the Senate finance committee today reported favorably the $7,000,000 bond bill.

The bill will be rushed through the Senate tomorrow to make available the flood of gold, Senator Simmons said.

Only three minor amendments were added to the bill as it came from the House.

On a test vote the principle of the selective draft incorporated in the general staff army bill was beaten in the House military committee this afternoon by a nine to eight vote. One member present—Field of Kentucky—did not vote.

EVENTFUL PROGRAM. One of the most eventful weeks in American history lay before the United States today.

With President Wilson's appeal calling for the co-operation of every man and woman of the nation in waging a successful war, bringing the conflict home to every farm, factory and household, events of the next few days will move America rapidly forward to participation in the struggle with Germany.

With the bond issue out of the way, both houses will consider taxation problems. Suggestions for raising nearly $2,000,000,000—about half the first year's war expenses—by added taxes, are formally before Congress today from Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

The selective conscription bill is now before the Senate military committee, while other war time bills like espionage, wooden ship building plans and finance measures, are due for early action. The Federal shipbuilding board is to organize a $50,000,000 corporation today to build and operate the one thousand wooden ships.

The selective draft measure now seems likely to pass, though President Wilson may have to exert further pressure upon the hating Congress today from the Congress course, insofar as the public imagination is concerned, is the visit of the allied high commission—England's and France's noted officials, braving the perils of the deep and possibly the fate of Kitchener, that they may counsel with their newest war friend, America.

ZIMMERMANN ANSWERED BY FRENCHMAN

PARIS, April 15.—Baron Denys-Cochin, under secretary of the foreign office in charge of blockade questions, in a talk with American correspondents on the entente blockade policy against Germany, said:

"Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German chancellor, and Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, the German foreign secretary, in their recent declarations sought to throw upon the entente the responsibility for a continuance of bloodshed. They talked of a blockade which, it was asserted, was causing the death of women and children. The entente is not at all responsible for a situation which it did not create and which grows out of the most unqualified aggression. The blockade, such as the Germans understand it, does not resemble in any way that which we have organized and which we are pursuing."

"Mr. Zimmermann complains of the inhuman extension Great Britain is making in the North Sea zone, that is to say, the laying of mines to bar the way of submarines. But who is it who started to lay mines? It was not the allies, but Germany. England, before the war, notably in 1907 at The Hague, showed herself hostile to the use of submarine mines. Germany demanded the right to use mines, in terms, furthermore, which would hardly permit one to foresee the use which she would make of them. From the early days of the war Germany spread mines in the North Sea and elsewhere around the English coasts in order to intercept the commerce with the allies. The admiralty then announced the fact in order to warn peaceful navigation and then gave notice of retaliatory measures which they would have to take. The laying of mines in open sea assuredly is destructive to the liberty of the sea. It affects the innocent as much as the neutrals."

NO BLACK DESIGNS.
"Mr. Zimmermann attributes to the entente the project of waging a war of extermination, not only against the armies of the central empires, but also against women and children. The entente powers have never had such black designs. They want to obtain reparation for the past, guarantees for the future. They desire to obtain them with the least and suffering possible. They asked only to maintain peace; attacked, they were obliged to struggle to continue that peace. They hope to accomplish it at the lowest possible cost; they wish to compel their adversaries to fight. They have no desire to exterminate them. They do not profess, as does the German annual of instructions to officers, that humanitarian considerations such as those respecting the care of persons and their property can only come into question if the nature and aim of the war permits of it and that the only real humanity rests frequently in the employment of severity."

"As to the pretended German blockade by submarines, it doesn't stop one ship in a hundred; the statistics of entries into our ports and the ports of our allies prove that eloquently. The effect most evident of the so-called blockade which Germany has pretended to enforce, has been to show once again the radical difference of the principles of the two groups of belligerents. It is this which cannot fail immediately to strike the neutrals."

"No one has been surprised to see President Wilson translate himself into the resolute policy of which you are aware. This policy was one which could be expected on the part of the entente. It was known so well how to characterize and stigmatize the doctrines and principles of our enemies."

MEXICO NEUTRAL, SAYS CARRANZA

MEXICO CITY, April 15.—General Carranza, in his address to Congress, declared that Mexico would maintain a strict and rigid neutrality in the world's war. He said that Mexico would not allow the United States to use its territory as a base for military operations against Germany.

He also said that Mexico would not allow the United States to use its territory as a base for military operations against Germany. He said that Mexico would not allow the United States to use its territory as a base for military operations against Germany.

REDDING, Cal., April 15.—One thousand Native Sons of the Golden West and their wives and daughters were on hand here today for the fourth annual grand parlor of the order convened here. Delegates numbering 437, representing 174 parlor, are officially accredited to the grand parlor.

Secretary Jung's annual report, read today, shows a membership of 27,220 in the state. The first of the San Francisco delegates to the fourth session of the grand parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West arrived here by special train and were met by the local parlor with its band. The convention program opens tomorrow and the delegates will be kept busy until Thursday night, when a banquet will be served.

Delegates arriving early Sunday were treated to a spectacular eruption of Mount Lassen, California's volcano. A plume of smoke issued straight up from the crater to a height of 2000 feet, forming a most inspiring spectacle.

After the business session today a reception for the Native Sons and their ladies was held. Tonight the annual grand ball will be held.

The program includes a reception to the visiting ladies, a public reception and a ball.

Following the regular morning sessions on Tuesday, the features of the program will be a free planting in the courthouse square, commemorating the 1917 grand parlor. Past presidents of subordinate parlors will be initiated during the evening.

Automobile and railroad excursions will take up the greater part of Wednesday. A dance will be held in the evening.

DEATH DEALT IN ARGENTINE RIOTS

By Charles P. Stewart,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

Buenos Aires, April 15.—Argentine seethed with war and anti-war demonstrations today.

In Buenos Aires, pacifists, in a well-organized group, had a pitched battle with pro-war advocates—and won. It was a fiercely fought melee for a short time. Today the police movement were planning a monster demonstration for late this afternoon under the leadership of former Minister of Foreign Affairs Zedillo.

Practically all Argentine provinces reported disturbances on Sunday, created by peace and war agitators. Police in every section were dealing impartially with the demonstrations.

A survey today of the damage done to German property indicated there must have been some lives lost, although the official government statement insisted simply that many were wounded, mostly from sabers wielded by the vandals. A number of Germans and several policemen were injured. There was unquestionably some death.

The damaged buildings included the German club, the Kaiserhof hotel, the German legation, the German consulate and offices of German newspapers. Of the latter the building occupied by La Union was the most wrecked.

Great forces of guards patrolled the city and the German property today, and the government has announced stringent precautions to prevent further outbreaks. It is understood Germany will formally demand reparation for the attack and loss of her citizens' property. Argentine Socialists met today and formally adopted resolutions urging peace. In the meantime the newspaper La Prensa editorially demanded punishment of everybody connected with the use of the Argentine flag or the steamer Monte Protegido, the torpedoing of which aroused the latest storm of anti-German feeling here. La Prensa insisted that the Monte Protegido was illegally flying the Argentine colors, not being registered as an Argentine vessel.

TEACH SOLDIERS FROST IS HEAVY

EUGENE, Ore., April 16.—The University of Oregon campus became an intensive military training camp today, with the object of preventing men who want to enlist from abandoning their studies before the term is concluded. The faculty voted this step in direct co-operation with the War Department. All men enrolled at the university will be assembled on the athletic field for their first instruction. The new system makes military training compulsory to the exclusion of athletics and the gymnasium.

TOWN IS BURNING SUSPEND LICENSES

WILMINGTON, Del., April 16.—Fire is sweeping the town of Smyrna, Del., according to a report reaching here this afternoon. Twelve buildings are reported to have been destroyed and the fire has not been checked.

AUTO TO BE AWARDED TO SHAREHOLDER

Are you ready for the great TRIBUNE-CHEVROLET automobile award at the Orpheum theater tomorrow night? If you are not ready it is time to get ready.

It is not too late, even for this week's award.

Get your coupons to the Orpheum Theater today if possible in order to avoid the rush of tomorrow, the last day. Then get your seats for the great event tomorrow night.

It is always "standing room only" on the night of the big event, and if you believe in preparedness get your seats today.

Don't worry about how few coupons you have. Remember, that every automobile that has been won up to date was won by one who had a few coupons in the box. It is anybody's game.

GROCERS GET STOCK

The Retail Grocers are going to the Orpheum on Tuesday night, and every one of them is going to get a special "stock dividend" of five extra shares for every ticket they buy. That is going to make a nice nest egg for everyone of those who attend. With two tickets there will be ten shares, and that was more than the winner of the first automobile had in the box.

It will be a great night tomorrow. There will be one of the best shows that the Orpheum has had for a long while.

Then there is going to be the demonstration of assembling a complete Chevrolet automobile on the stage. You will be able to see just what you are getting and just how it is put together. It is a fascinating sight that hundreds travel out to the Chevrolet factory every day to see. The Orpheum is going to bring the operation right in front of you.

THE FAIRY GODMOTHER. Then little Helen Macgregor, the bonnie little Highland lassie, is going to make her sweetest appearance when she appears as the fairy Godmother who will pick the winning number that gets the automobile.

Robert Robertson, who will be the master of ceremonies, is going to say a word about Oakland, the city so dear to his heart, and maybe he will tell a Harry Lauder story or two.

Zyron Rulley and Lee Berthillon will be there to see that everything is right. And some TRIBUNE reader will win a machine that would cost $623, and if that is not enough for one night it is not the fault of THE TRIBUNE, or the Orpheum theater.

And don't forget the Orpheum company that will help the event out.

FIVE WOUNDED DURING FIGHT AT BALL GAME

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—Five negroes were wounded and several other lives endangered when two men, armed with revolvers, fought a running battle in the grandstand at the Vernon ball park yesterday afternoon. The excitement began at the end of the sixth inning of a game between the colored White Sox and Tuttle-Lyons teams when Frank Turner and J. E. King started to settle a bet with big revolvers. Other guests were drawn and a rain of bullets flew over the grandstand. Turner was shot through the back and King through the left hand. Mrs. William Roger Arthur Dearing and Frank Darcy were hit by stray bullets. None are believed seriously injured.

MOTHERS' SESSION

The regular meeting of the Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs has been postponed from Tuesday, April 17, to Tuesday, April 24. The meeting, which is to be held in the high school assembly room, will have as its important feature the selection of a nominating board. The organization hopes that Mrs. E. B. de Rome, its president, will be sufficiently recovered from her recent serious illness to preside.

The Laurel School Mothers' Club will hold its annual meeting and election on Friday afternoon in the school house. This meeting also is a postponed one, being set forward a week because of the annual convention of the second district California Congress of Mothers, in Oakland last Friday.

SEEK LOST BOY. SAN RAFAEL, April 16.—Searching parties are scouring the hills about Fairfax today for little Albert Daniels, 34-year-old son of Harry Daniels, who disappeared mysteriously last evening from the country home of E. J. Hooker at Ridgeway Park, near Fairfax, where the father was visiting.

The appearance of a strange automobile occupied by three women, a man and a child, on the road shortly before the child was missed, has given rise to theories of kidnapping among the Fairfax officials and residents searching for the boy.

MRS. IDA GALLERY DIES. PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 16.—Mrs. Ida Gallery, former secretary of the Socialist party in Oklahoma and one of the few women lawyers practicing within the State, is dead at her home here.

WOMEN FROM 40 STATES CAMP TO STUDY WAR

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Under sunny skies, 250 young society women representing forty States of the Union gathered here today for the second encampment of the first national service school, to learn woman's part in war. For twenty days the students will wear khaki, live on a military reservation under military discipline, sleeping in army tents and subsisting on rations patterned after those of soldiers, receiving instructions by doctors and nurses of the Red Cross and non-commissioned officers of the army, navy and marine corps.

The opening exercises at the reservation, a tract of twenty acres just outside the city, will take place this afternoon. Among the guests will be Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Secretary of War Baker and Major-General George Barnett, commandant of the marine corps. The American flag will be raised by Mrs. Frank E. Fletcher, wife of Admiral Fletcher, Mrs. John L. Scott, chief of staff, and Mrs. Barnett, while the marine band plays "The Star-Spangled Banner."

DOG FISH LATEST IN WAY OF FOOD

In discovering the habits of a new fish that is expected to break the high cost of living the bureau of fisheries steamer, Roosevelt, may, 'tis said, meet with greater acclamation from the housewife and the laboring man than when it carried Admiral Bear in his search for the North Pole. In bringing the Roosevelt through the Golden Gate yesterday Captain Hans Bled, her commander, brought word of the dogfish. Despite its unattractive name the dog fish, says Captain Bled, is a fine food fish, and as it exists plentifully and has an extended habitat may prove a factor in lowering the cost of living.

Through the activity of Captain Bled and the Roosevelt the dog fish has already been introduced to the country as a cheap food and through the advertising given it by the bureau of fisheries has won a permanent place on the menus of the nation.

Captain Bled believes that the dogfish will share honors with the tile fish in helping both ends meet. The Roosevelt is on route to the Prithoff islands, Bering sea, for duty.

BACK FROM EAST. Mrs. D. Bytton, for a number of years with Reich & Liever's New York Cloth and Suit House, and who left last September for New York, has returned and accepted the position of assistant manager for the local firm.

Mrs. Bytton's former home was in the East and when she left she contemplated residing there permanently, but the call of the West lured her back. While in New York she was employed by Oppenheim & Sons Co., one of the exclusive cloak and suit houses of the country. The magnitude of this firm can be realized when it is known that 150 clerks are employed in the suit department.

On the way to Oakland Mrs. Bytton visited Reich & Liever's new store in Los Angeles. She says that this is Los Angeles' finest exclusive store and is already enjoying an enormous patronage from discriminating buyers.

PLEA IS HEARD. SACRAMENTO, April 16.—Gerrude Lamson, accused of the Rev. Madison Slaughter of Chico, is before the third Appellate Court today on a writ of habeas corpus, secured by her parents in an effort to have their daughter returned to their custody. The parents, alleging that since the trial the girl has been in the custody of the probation officer and that they believe she has been held at a place outside the county, petitioned the court for a writ of habeas corpus and last week it was issued.

WILL SELL FURS. ST. LOUIS, April 16.—Two million, seven hundred and fifty thousand furs valued at $2,500,000 will be sold at public auction here beginning today, to buyers from all over the world. The sale is expected to last eight days. The Japanese government will offer 1533 raw seal furs. Thousands of Russian furs are here, too.

SUSPECT INCENDIARISM. THEFORD, Neb., April 16.—Local investigators believe the fire which destroyed seven buildings in the business district here Sunday was the result of incendiary work. The damage is estimated at $20,000. A heavy snow began falling shortly after the fire broke out and saved the rest of the town.

The Efficiency Test. Is Fully Met by Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pepsin Pills. Because of what it contains, of the nervous-matrix by weakness, thin flesh, lack of energy, the body it has achieved, Hood's Sarsaparilla is warmly recommended to you for rheumatism, catarrh, scrofula, eczema and other troubles arising from impure blood or low state of the system. In cases that are radically anaemic and nervous—marked by weakness, thin flesh, plethoricness, nerve exhaustion, the power of Hood's Sarsaparilla is greatly increased by Pepsin Pills, the new peptic, mix and iron tonic, these two medicines make the strongest combination course of treatment for the blood and nerves of which you have heard so much. Fine results follow this course of treatment—take Hood's Sarsaparilla regularly before meals, Pepsin Pills after meals. Thousands of families are taking these medicines. Let your family take them, too. Get them now.—Advertisement.

SCHOOL BOARD CAMPAIGN CANDIDATES ENERGETIC

Mary J. Thompson, School Teacher and Taxpayer, Making Strong Fight for No. 2.

Mary J. Thompson, candidate for School Director No. 2, closes her campaign for the primary election tonight. She has made some two hundred addresses during the past two months and a half and feels confident of victory, should she qualify.

Mrs. Thompson is a graduate of the grade schools, the high school and the State Normal School, holding a teacher's certificate, which gave her a wide experience in actual grade school work, in which profession she engaged prior to her marriage to former City Clerk, the late Frank Thompson.

Since Mrs. Thompson's death she has directly had charge of several properties, including a large apartment house property in this city, and has been a heavy investor in improved realty in Oakland. As a taxpayer she knows the weight of taxation and has pledged herself to do whatever she can to lighten the tax burden and maintain efficiency in the school department. Having resided in Oakland for twenty-five years, reared a family of three children and sent them all through the public school system to the university, she knows the problem of education from the standpoint of the mother as well as the educator.

She is unpledged to any political faction.

Mrs. Thompson has for nineteen years been an active member of Oakland Chapter Order of Eastern Star, is a member of the Royal Neighbors, president of the Franklin School Parents' Teachers' Association, an officer of the Federated Mothers' Clubs, a member of the Park Boulevard Improvement Club, in which district she owns property; secretary of the Thirty-sixth Assembly District Women's Republican Club, a member of the legislative committee of the Civic Center, a member of the auxiliary of the First Baptist Church and a native of California. Five members of her family are school teachers and two are lawyers.—Advertisement.

ENLISTMENTS INCREASE ON THIS COAST

Enlistment officers are busy this week answering questions, taking measurements and transferring accepted recruits to the headquarters of the Army, Navy and Marine corps in San Francisco. Day by day the enlistments are increasing, slowly but surely bringing the number to the full quota requested by the President's proclamation. Many of the enlisted men have already seen service in various parts of the world.

While recruits are coming in from not only the sections immediately contiguous to San Francisco Bay, but from the inland districts as well, other cities in various parts of the coast are much ahead of local cities, according to figures issued by the Navy Department for the week ending April 12. According to the official tabulated list of enlistments only 63 men have enlisted in the Navy in that period, while for Portland, with a lesser population, 238 applicants were accepted. Seattle contributed 85, Los Angeles 35.

The total enlistments for the Western Division amounted to 1061, the preceding week bringing only 467 recruits. This increase marked in the Navy extends also to the Army and the Marine Corps as well, according to recruiting officers, where the number of men accepted is more than double for the same week over the figures of the week preceding. The Western Division of the Navy has already enlisted about 10 per cent more than its percentage of the required recruits as compared with the Central, Southern and Eastern divisions. Portland is expected to enlist a full quota by the 20th of the month.

Inquiries reached the United States Army recruiting office today from Postmaster J. J. Anderson of Martinez, Costa Rica, asking for information regarding the enlistment and terms of enlistment for recruits. According to a letter which he sent this morning, he has two young men in Martinez who desire to join the aviation corps. The complete data was sent to him by the recruiting officer in charge.

Word has reached here from Adjutant General G. W. Read of the War Department at Washington, telling of the offer of the Wells-Fargo Express Company of the West Coast to transport more than 4000 company soldiers for the display of poster propaganda. Pursuant to this information, officers of all branches of the service were busy today putting into position recruiting posters calling young men of the nation to the colors.

BATTERY B'S CALL

Battery B has sent out a call to young men who can ride horseback, to enlist in the battery's school of equitation which is now being held in the National Guard armory, Twenty-fourth and Telegraph avenues, for all who are able to attend. In addition mounted drill, standing gun drill, signaling and detail work is included as a part of the recruit course. Sergeant Charles E. Pelton of the United States Army has been detailed by the War Department as instructor in charge of the school of equitation. Thirty-six horses, recently used on border duty, are used in the work. At Battery B's recruiting station at 1622 Broadway, enlistments are averaging six a day, according to Sergeant C. E. Petersen, in charge.

Four men enlisted early in the navy service this morning, passing the tests imposed by Chief Electrician Frank Bidwell, in charge of the recruiting in the Oakland division. One of the men walked twelve miles to Hayward without his breakfast to get the first car in. At army headquarters Irving Hazeltine, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hazeltine, 21, was also among the early enlistments today. From Bay Point, Contra Costa county, came John M. Jenifer, also an early recruit.

TO TELL OF DIVERS

Just how a submarine dives to launch its torpedo against a hostile warship, what the sensations are underneath the water, how the divers escape attack—in fact, all the "insides" of the submarine—will be explained before the Advertising Bureau of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce at its regular weekly luncheon tomorrow.

Captain J. M. Howell, retired, former commander of the P-1, the flagship of the submarine group of the Pacific Coast fleet, and Ernest Fotters, former chief electrician of the P-4, which sank in the harbor at Honolulu, will be the speakers.

DANCERS ORPHEUM HIT

By Ad Schuster.

Many preconceived ideas of Spanish dancing are sent glimmering this week by Eduardo and Elisa Canino, who are as much different from the ordinary tumbourine bangers we have seen billed as Spanish as a bull fight is different from a Punch and Judy show. Miss Canino dances as a name, smouldering, wavering, leaping and rearing, and interprets her art not only with a rush of feet about the boards, but with an eloquent use of her eyes, expressive and disdainful gestures, and by throwing her whole body recklessly into the music. Eduardo is agile and tripping and an admirable partner who effaces himself just enough.

It is a show bearing a strong imprint of individuality. Nocturnal, dimpled and flashing, singe while she plays a violin. It was a school teacher who told me that no person would do two things at once and do each as well as it could be done were it done alone, but that teacher—and it is her loss—had not seen Nonette, the friendly, and the graceful. And it is to be noted the audience applauded until she made a speech, thereby recording the third or the fourth that was made during her performance.

It was Rachel Hendler, brave man, who made the first. He is brave because he chooses to appear in most unlikely light as an "artist" of the periphery and powder puff variety. In this role he affects a foreign accent, plays soulfully, and hops long hair until thoughts of murder become almost audible in the gallery. Then presto! he is an ordinary American minus accent and minus the pink tea atmosphere. He was made to do many things to the piano the management provided and finally made his speech.

William Kingston, an unaffected singer from Nevada, accepted merited applause with a shy pleasure. Her accompanist is Uda Waldrop of Berkeley, recent accompanist of Miss Kingston, not in the far future one feels, will be accepting the applause quite as a matter of course. She has that kind of a voice. A comely, built around a traveling salesman's opportunities for making his wife jealous is played by Charley Grape and Miss Anna Chance to gales of laughter, and Melvin, Watts and Townes, three men who sing and bicker jealously, another of the laugh acts, that took the part of Nacost in "The Beloved Vagabond," and who is much made during her performance.

Victor Moore supplies the fun in the film.

UNDER SEA PLAY HIT

How true were the predictions of Jules Verne, whose semisubmarine visions have been made real by the skill of modern scientists, is shown this week in a striking manner at the Macdonough. Perhaps this is almost the only connection the Verne romance has with "Leagues Under the Sea" as offered in its film form, as shown at the Macdonough this week. The story of the boat, which is barely suggested, and another more spectacular was evolved to surround the wonderful pictures of the bottom of the ocean.

The principal features of the picture were not the adventures of Captain Nemo, even the remarkable submarine used in the offering, but in the world views of hills and valleys, coral forests through which fish sped like birds, the hunt for sharks by divers in the ocean meadows, and the other wonderful marine features that the Williamson Brothers used for "local color" in their story of the bottom of the sea. The film at the Macdonough this week transports the spectator to another land, a weird fairland of bright coral and silver shadows, on the floor of the sea. It transports one through the tropic islands, where one sees nature in supreme control, where man had never before set foot. The story hardly matters—it resembles Verne, and it does not. But the principal thing is the visit to the bottom of the ocean, and no one should miss it when it can be made so easily this week—in the film.

PLAN TWO CONCERTS

The ticket sale for the two concerts to be given next Saturday in the Oakland auditorium opera house is now in full swing. At Sherman, Clay Co.'s store at Fourteenth and Clay streets, Oakland. The office will be open every day now from 10 to 6 in the morning and at night. This will be the first visit of the entire New York Symphony Orchestra to Oakland, and under the direction of Walter Damrosch there is no better orchestral organization in the United States. Eighty-five players are carried from coast to coast, and their names include some of the foremost orchestral players in the world. A great symphony program will be offered next Saturday night, with Efrim Zimbalist, the great Russian violinist, as special soloist. In the afternoon Damrosch will offer a unique program in two parts. First he will deliver a short address on the orchestra and its instruments, with a descriptive illustration on the instruments played by the soloists. Then will come "Pop" program, including Weber's "Oberon" overture, Handel's "Largo," the Allegretto from Beethoven's eighth symphony, and "Dance of the Sylphs," "Lohengrin," and "Dance of the Sylphs." Each of these will be prefaced by short explanatory remarks by Damrosch.

"MOVIE" SHOW PLEASES

Disguised in a small black mustache and assisted by a chorus in similar attire, Ned La Rose, comedian and singer at the Columbia theater, scored one of his biggest hits last night in his interpretation of "The Charlie Chaplin Walk," a musical number introduced during the course of "Twenty Minutes in the Movies."

The show comes from the pen of Lou Jacobs and service introduced King in the role of a restaurant keeper and proprietor of a motion picture factory. It is beyond a doubt one of the funniest offerings presented at the Columbia theater this season and overflows with laughs, dramatic incidents and good music. King was given excellent support by a big cast, including a small burro of no little intelligence whose antics added to the general mirth. In the cast were Reece Gardner, Will Hayes, Lou Jacobs, Lou Donaghy, Ned La Rose, Clarence Willis, Ed Anderson, Mary Guley, Clair Starr and Laura Vall.

In the big scene which depicted the interior of a moving picture studio, Miss Starr appeared as "Thea Barn"; Miss Vall as "Blanche Sweet"; Lou Jacobs as "Fatty Arbuckle" and La Rose as "Charlie Chaplin." The impersonations were above reproach and merited no little applause.

CITY ASSURED OF TIDE LAND TITLE

Oakland virtually is assured of being granted by the State title to submerged lands below the low tide line of 1852 in the estuary as the result of the bill providing for the grant having passed the assembly without a dissenting vote. There is a similar bill in the Senate. The assembly bill was to have come up today, but it was taken from the files and adopted Friday.

Commissioner Harry S. Anderson and Assistant City Attorney Calkins prepared the bills and made a special trip to Sacramento to have them introduced. The assembly bill was offered by Assemblyman Brackett and the Senate bill by Senator Tyrrell. Commissioner Anderson suggested the plan to the city council as the result of controversies that have arisen over jurisdiction of submerged lands in the estuary between Pina and Fallon street. With the final passage of the measures Oakland will have grant of all of her waterfront properties.

House Peters Is Star at T. & D.

"As Men Love," now playing until Tuesday at the new T. & D. Eleven and Broadway, is a story of deep friendship between two men, pals from childhood. House Peters is the friend of her husband whom Mrs. Gordon (Myrtle Steadman) falls in love with. The man is innocent of wrong doing, but in order to save the wife from humiliation and for this he is spurned and leaves the home of his life-long friend in disgrace. Events transpire and the scenes change to that of the sick room. A child has been born to the husband and wife and the physician informs the grief-stricken parents that only the skill of a certain surgeon can save its little life. The "specialist" proves to be the old-time "pal." He saves the child's life.

On the same days at the same theater Harold Lockwood and May Allison are the duo stars in the Metro production, "The Promise." After a typical fashion Harold Lockwood proceeds to "make good" and show himself every bit a man. The pictures unfold in a compelling way how well he "made good."

Idora Plans a "Parasol Parade"

The first annual "Parasol Parade" will be staged on the sands of the palm-shaded inland beach at Idora Sunday next. This unique sunshade, fashion pageant promises to be more popular than the novel chapeau revue which was given at Idora April 8.

A splendid cash award will be made to the victor on the basis of most attractive design and color. Silk and linen, cotton and other sunshade fabrics will be displayed in parasol designs. Judges for the unique event will be selected among representative business and professional men and women, artists and fashion critics. Louis Balbach, the sensational high and diver whose exhibitions, yesterday thrilled the throngs, will be seen again at Idora next Sunday in other remarkable aquatic feats. Walter Miller, middle-weight wrestling champion of the world, will be the fourth noted mat artist to give a free wrestling exhibition in the amphitheater.

PANTAGES BILL UNIQUE

One doesn't have to own an automobile to appreciate the laughable trouble that Harry Langdon has with his car at Pantages this week. "Johnny's New Car" is the name of the act, and it's best to underline the title in your memory for there hasn't been a better constructed, better interpreted comedy skit here for a long time.

The predicaments begin for Johnny when his machine bucks and stops right smack in front of an expensive road cafe. Katie Speedington, with Johnny, is a city girl, therefore she likes to eat, no possible things—impossible insofar as modest pocketbooks are concerned. The maze of difficulties over her laughable hero gets into is only equalled by the number of laughs coming from the willing, though helpless audiences. For those who like to see there are a few stage tricks that please, too.

Elizabeth Otto CAN play the piano—spelling "can" right out in capital letters. She's an artist of merit, with a healthy smile and a pleasing manner which wins her the victory at the start. Her songs are not short-worn and the material is stitched together in clever fashion. There is a reason for Miss Otto's appeal. She likes to eat, no possible things—impossible insofar as modest pocketbooks are concerned. The maze of difficulties over her laughable hero gets into is only equalled by the number of laughs coming from the willing, though helpless audiences. For those who like to see there are a few stage tricks that please, too.

Brilliant Bill at the Hippodrome

A show of unusual brilliancy began a three days' run at the Hippodrome yesterday afternoon.

All the acts on the big feature bill were well received, especially the headline act, by America's youngest song writer, Cole, a clever company, sang several songs of his own composition. Henry's Pets, an animal act of unusual excellence, came a close second in bids for favor from the huge audiences that noticed the popular vaudeville house from noon to midnight. Dale and Weber, in refined singing and instrumental music, were a delight to the audience. The astonished everyone with his herculean athletic feats: Sam Hood kept the audience rocking with laughter as he juggled a delirious "Man from Slesco," and Brooks and Lorola, acrobatic comedians, came in for round after round of applause.

Tonight is "candidates' night," when all aspirants for municipal offices will appear and be heard in short speeches.

Film Program

Seen at Kinema

The Oakland Kinema theater presented its most successful program of balanced variety and big features policy yesterday. Tipton Holmes holds the top position in his delightful series of travel through-out Old India; The Mysterious Mrs. M. furnished the solid position of the anti-feminist, while a screaming two-reel comedy is the desert par excellence. In The Mysterious Mrs. M. the spectacular gets a splendid treat. Here is a coming shop about town, pretty much in the dumps, because he is bored to death, his friends job him in good style—he is led to the seclusion, who knocks all the ashline boredom out of him. Pretty soon everyone is let into the secret and with a roar of applause the curtain rings down on the cleverest bit of screen work of the season. The Keystone is called "Her Fame and Shame."

TREATY CHANGED

WASHINGTON, April 15.—An effort was made to revive the Colombian treaty controversy in the Senate, but it went over under the rules. The matter was considered in executive session. It is understood that a clause, has been inserted in the treaty which binds the Colombian government not to grant concessions to any foreign government in the vicinity of the Panama canal.

CAMP IS OPENED

CULVER, Ind., April 15.—Culver Military Academy today opened a training camp for candidates for commissions in the Reserve Officers' Corps of the United States army. Rapid-fire methods of instruction will be employed. Men will be trained in both cavalry and infantry work.

ARREST GENERALS

TASHKENT, Asiatic Russia, via London, April 15.—General Alexei Klimopalkin, governor general of Turkistan, his assistant, General Yeroff, and General Silvers, chief of staff, have been arrested by the council of soldiers' delegates.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.—Advertisement.

WHEN THEY NOMINATE THEMSELVES.

The TRIBUNE published yesterday a list of the candidates for municipal office at the election to-morrow. There are thirty-eight of these aspirants for public honor. For three days THE TRIBUNE made an energetic effort to gather information concerning all the candidates for the convenience of the voters. It does not hesitate to confess that the result was unsatisfactory. With only five or six exceptions, the candidates are unknown to any considerable portion of their fellow citizens. Concerning some it was impossible to obtain any reliable information, and as to the large majority nothing could be uncovered to indicate a peculiar fitness for the office for which the candidates are aspiring. THE TRIBUNE takes pride in its efficiency as an organization for gathering and distributing information, but if it experienced so much difficulty with reference to candidates for public office, what must be the fate of the average voter? If he goes to the polls with the desire to vote for the candidate best fitted for the place, he might as well go blindfolded.

The cause of this situation is the system by which any person may nominate himself for office. The voter is faced with a nondescript array of candidates, whom nobody endorsed for office and for whom no trustworthy, representative body of the voters stands sponsor. The individual voter can only wonder how he may cast his ballot to render his mistake the least harmful. The city of Alameda is a bit better off than Oakland; there the candidates are permitted to give a brief biography of themselves and a statement of the reasons they think they should be elected. This personal history is distributed with the sample ballots, and the voters at least have the candidate's word as to his qualification.

So long as the citizens tolerate a system that permits any person who pleases to impose himself upon the community as a candidate for responsible and important office—whether he desires to help the community or merely to promote his private business—better government will be only a dream.

Among thinking voters the sentiment is growing in favor of a representative citizens' organization to select and pass upon the availability and fitness of candidates for municipal office. It is imperative that some such plan be put into effect before the next municipal election. The present system threatens the city with a regime of incompetency that will be a disgrace and require several years to live down.

STRIKE AT THE SOURCE.

Agitators are continuing their unseemly activities. One bunch of them is scheduled to discuss in Berkeley today the military censorship of the press, notwithstanding that the news gathering associations and the government have already reached an amicable understanding on this question and that there is no danger of any serious differences arising in the future between the patriotic newspapers and the government. Then there is agitation for a meeting of a few Oakland women to aid in the propagation, under the innocent-sounding phrase of "America first," of falsehood designed to weaken the power of the government.

It is not possible to determine at this time just in what degree these unwise efforts are due to a misunderstanding of facts and the patriotic duties of individuals, or in what degree they have been fomented by designing enemies of the government. For the present it is more charitable to consider them merely foolish.

But it is patent that prompt action by the federal government will save embarrassment in the future. The government should keep an eye on these powerful apostles of sedition who are brazenly trying to aid the enemies of the United States under cover of the American flag. There is where and how the seeds of disloyalty and treason are being sown, and there is where we must watch for the overt act, but let us not watch with eternal waiting!

FOR OR AGAINST.

Prior to April 6th opponents of the government's plans for defending the nation and the lives of its citizens against unlawful warfare, were referred to, with commendable charity or heart, as pacifists and pro-Germans. But upon the above date these names disappeared from the vocabulary of loyal American citizens.

Those who are pro-anything but the United States are enemies of the nation and their acts against the government are nothing less than treason or sedition. This country has been compelled to enter into a military alliance with several other great nations. All are enlisted in a common cause—to save humanity from the ravages of a military despotism directed by barbarous outlaws.

Inasmuch as aid is given to one of our allies the righteous cause of the American people is promoted. To try to alienate an ally or to prevent the United States from extending the greatest possible assistance to all its allies is to be an enemy of the United States.

ACTUAL WORK NEEDED.

One feature of the talk and activities in various quarters on the subject of the prospective shortage in food production was emphasized at the conference of agricultural experts held in Berkeley during the week just closed; that is, a plethora of resolutions and advice as to the results desired to be obtained.

The situation of agriculture and its relation to the national welfare is serious and it requires comprehensive treatment. The plan for improving the situation must include something more than warning to the producers to increase their acreage and conserve their supply. In addition to intensive methods in farming and stock-breeding and raising, it is of first importance to exert intensive efforts on the business men of every community—farming, industrial and commercial—to inform them fully as to what is necessary.

Much can be done if the business men of every locality rise to the occasion, but they should act quickly or it will be too late. A lot of very important phases of the general situation have escaped so far without notice. In some cases government or public assistance is frankly needed.

For instance there is danger of a shortage of farming machinery. Foreign governments are buying farm tractors in this country in large numbers in order to make good the shortage of labor. The call for enlistments in this country will probably draw hundreds of thousands of young men from the farms, and unless their loss is made good by implements and the labor of women it will appear in a reduction of the crops. The question of seed supply is important. The threatened reduction of potato acreage in many States is because seed is not to be had locally, the price is very high, and unless there is an organized effort to supply seed the planting will be curtailed. The fertilizer question is an important one. The short supply of potash is an unfavorable condition for the potato crop, which should be overcome as far as possible. Every available pound of fertilizer should be used on the crops this year. The choice of crops to be planted in view of conditions this year is a matter upon which expert advice may be wanted. And finally there is an important amount of labor in all towns in the agricultural districts which can be loaned to the farmers at the critical periods.

This would be systematically done if it were a life and death question in each locality—and this year there is a world emergency which calls for just such organized effort. Every county should have a committee composed of leading business men to plan and manage a general campaign of co-operation to get the most that can be had out of the soil. A Wisconsin banker recommends that much road work can be suspended this year, and there is work of many kinds that can be laid aside for the present. A little money or credit which a farmer may hesitate to solicit may be of material assistance in enlarging the yield of his farm, and it comes home now as never before that the whole country is interested in the yield of each farm. Moreover, the lessons taught by one year of such cooperation will be of lasting value.

Unless all the discussions result in actual co-operation of all the productive resources for the national welfare they will be useless. Advice should be supported by a modicum of service.

Former Ambassador Gerard disclosed some informing particulars in his speech at the Jefferson banquet as to why the German government went so far in flouting this nation. It was assumed that we would not take action on the sinking of the Lusitania through fear of an uprising of 500,000 Germans in this country. It was considered that the assumption was confirmed when we did not take action, so that further aggression resulted. The assumption that the United States was thus estopped from action may account for the long series of outrages on our shipping, and finally for the general running amok of submarines without pretense of justification. In the same line with this understanding and belief was the assumption that at the outset England would be embarrassed by the Irish and Indian situations; that its colonies would refuse to assist; that Japan might see its opportunity in the Pacific; that Italy would stand by the Triple Alliance agreement, and that Belgium would let the German armies through, or at least that it would not be such a terrible job to get through. The whole indicates a lamentable misunderstanding of world attitude.

The news from Mexico City that the Mexican Congress proposes to send an army to the border to prevent raids by sporadic bands of bandits suggests the parallel of Mark Twain's cowcatcher which was to be attached to the rear of the train to prevent cattle from running down the cars. After the Mexican army reaches the border it will have to face about if it engages sporadic bands of bandits.

NOTES and COMMENT

The late Diamond Jim Brady enjoyed a fame that few men attain. Not only his blinding headlight differentiated him, but his stomach had been made over by the surgical skill of Johns Hopkins University, and he was a man of great personality otherwise, who rose from the lowliest rung to high financial and political eminence.

Mexico says that all the stories and rumors as to its being Germany's Trojan horse are not so, which this country is willing to believe just as far as possible.

Generous offer of the Eureka Standard: "There is no reason why the English girls should have to go halvers or quarters on the men, as is suggested in a dispatch from England and published in another column; let them come over here and we will take pleasure in finding a man apiece for them."

The San Bernardino Sun seeks enlightenment: "If it is a mark of disrespect to let the flag fly at night, will somebody please explain how Francis Scott Key saw it by the dawn's early light?"

The Argentine folk were inclined to favor the Teutonic side of it till one of their ships was sunk by a German submarine, when the matter was brought right home. Sinking the ships of neutral powers would not seem to be real wisdom, but this is the policy of the power that is defying the world.

The Stars and Stripes now float from the Lafayette flying squadron over the battlefields in France. "Stars and Stripes" and "Lafayette" are a historical and patriotic conjunction, by the way.

The Koelnische Volks Zeitung is on hand with a fly which it seeks to insert in the ointment by declaring that this country will have to pay Germany a "thumping war indemnity" in the end. Always somebody willing to take the joy out of life.

The Santa Ana Blade seeks information: "Professor Woodbridge says the claim of Americans to be the most enlightened people that ever were on earth 'is a good joke.' Will some gentleman in the house kindly inform us just who Professor Woodbridge is—and why?"

The Bakersfield Californian explains: "In yesterday's paper it read 'his mellifluous voice,' when the editor was trying to compliment Mr. Bryan by designating his vocal efforts as 'mellifluous.' The compositor being a standpat Republican rather insistently declares that he had the right to construe the word as he did."

An effort is probably being made to induce the Russian socialists to favor a separate peace, but the germ is not vital if such effort has any success. No peace that is worth anything to emancipated Russia or any other people who desire the matter settled for good can come in that way.

The folly of making it easy for criminals through allowing their interested relatives to get up their insanity, that they may be confined in an asylum instead of a penitentiary, has been illustrated through the escape of the young bandit who robbed a San Francisco bank at the point of a revolver. This outcome might reasonably discourage the practice.

Ornithological discovery by the Marysville Appeal: "Caine, carrying liquor to his ranch and laying around drunk in the presence of his 14-year-old daughter," says a local evening paper. First time we ever knew a rooster was given to laying.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

With other good work done by City Manager Reed of San Jose is that teaching of the police force to shoot straight with their revolvers. In a recent address at Santa Cruz Manager Reed asserted that for years a San Jose policeman had never practiced at target. When they were put at pistol practice the crack police officer on the force was able to make only twelve hits out of a possible five-hundred.—Chico Enterprise.

Up in the town of Quincy, Plumas county, the boosters got together the other day and anathematized the knocker, and publicly burned the hammer. The ceremony was preceded by a big procession, there was public speaking, and ex-Senator W. W. Kellogg, father of Dr. Kellogg of this city, was the poet laureate. Hereafter the knocker is likely to find himself knocking alone in the northern town.—Bakersfield Californian.

A. G. Wells, general manager of the coast lines of the Santa Fe railroad, confirmed yesterday in Los Angeles a report that the Santa Fe will extend its line from Porterville to Bakersfield. The road has not yet been completed to Porterville, but soon will be. Mr. Wells would not say for publication what route will be followed south of Porterville, or the time of starting the work.—Visalia Times.

San Diego elected a mayor who ran on a platform pledging himself to do his level best to bring industries to that city. He called it the "Smoke-stack" platform and it brought him the votes.—Bakersfield Echo.

H. M. Durbin of Walnut Grove has entered into an agreement with the Vrooman company, owners of 336 acres of asparagus land, for a twelve year lease, for which the owners will receive $107,043. He will use the land for the production of asparagus and has already contracted with Libby, McNeil & Libby for the disposition of his entire crop during that time. This company now is constructing an asparagus cannery in the vicinity of Walnut Grove for the express purpose of handling the asparagus output of the Delta farmers.—Santa Ana Blade.

NO SLACKERS HERE.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

The agricultural college of the University of California was burned to the ground this afternoon, the damage amounting to $25,000. The fire was occasioned by the explosion of a sterilizer. Professor E. W. Hilgard was the biggest loser.

Gold Bug, an 8-year-old horse, ran at the Oakland race track for the richest stake ever decided in California—the price of a human life. An old man who formerly owned the horse declared his intention of taking his own life if Gold Bug lost the race. Gold Bug lost and the man tried unsuccessfully to kill himself.

An improvement affecting the whole county is nearing completion near Pleasanton in the shape of a canal a mile long to drain a large part of the land adjoining that community and which will do away with the old trestle near Dublin, on the Livermore road.

Mrs. W. W. Moody has gone to Mendocino county, where she will stay two months.

WASTING CORN FOR WHISKY.

In view of the world-shortage of nutrition, one cannot avoid a feeling of condemnation bordering on fury at the waste, and worse, now going on in the use of foodstuffs in the United States. Illinois, that greatest offender of corn, is one of the greatest offenders of whiskey by millions of bushels. All the time the grinding bushels. All the time the deadly fluid is going on and the distilleries not to coming from the distilleries not to nourish, but to blight. Whatever may be one's sentiment regarding the management of the drink evil, there can be no question of the wickedness of this destruction of food material. Yet the liquor interest is pushing its propaganda with unusual zeal and the Illinois House of Representatives refuses to put its ban on the business and the British Government seems on the point of taking the matter into its own hands, and everywhere in Europe is growing up the idea of putting a stop to an industry which not only deprives men of food, but also supplies them with poison.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

WHEN DADDY SINGS.

By Burgess Johnson.

When Daddy sings he keeps his chin
Pressed tight against his chest,
And just before the folks begin
He gives his voice a test,
And growls, "Do, do," first high, then
low,
To see which way sounds best.

When Daddy sings it makes him frown
Or wrinkle up his nose.
He waves one finger up and down
The way the music goes;
And when the song lasts very long,
He rises on his toes.

"Black Joe" and "Cradle of the Deep"—
He growls them extra strong.
I don't see why he cares a heap
Whatever words belong;
You just hear "Tum ti dum um"
When Daddy sings a song.
—Everybody's Magazine.

THE JESTER

Why She Sent a Substitute.
The loan department of the welfare board and the woman outside the rail had agreed on the amount of the loan she wished on the diamond ring.
"Your name?" the loan clerk asked.
"It isn't my ring," she replied. "It belongs to a friend."
She named the owner.
"Couldn't she come herself for the loan?"
"No, not very well," she answered.
"You see, her home was robbed last night and all her clothes stolen. She must borrow money on the ring to buy new ones. She sent me to get the money and to buy the clothes."
The loan was made.—Kansas City Star.

PRESS CENSORSHIP WILL BE LIBERAL

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Secretaries Lansing, Baker and Daniels and George Creel, who compose the new government publicity bureau created by President Wilson, held their first meeting today to map out a course of action.

The primary purpose of the bureau, it was stated, was to profit immediately by the mistakes made abroad in imposing a military censorship on the press at the beginning of the war and to open to the public all proper information as to what the government is doing, or intends to do.

Details of the plans are still to be worked out. There will be no effort to withhold any information, except such as in the judgment of the press itself, it would be unwise to print. An advisory relationship with the press representatives in Washington will be established to secure that end.

Indications are that no attempt at direct censorship will be made. The bureau will formulate, after a conference with the newspapermen here, a set of regulations for the guidance of newspaper editors, and which it is believed will be so clear and impose so few restrictions that there can be no mistake as to their meaning. It will be left to the papers themselves to comply, and there is no plan for watching the columns of the press.

It was explained that in the view of some members of the bureau most of the secrecy that has surrounded army and navy matters in Europe has been unnecessary. There is no intention of building up a system of suppression in the United States.

PLAN PRACTICE

The Community Orchestra of Oakland, which has now a membership of fifty-eight, will meet this evening for rehearsal. It is the Vocational high school, Twelfth and Market streets. Advanced instrumental players desiring the opportunity for symphonic practice in a well-balanced and regularly constituted orchestra are invited to join the organization. It is maintained by the school department and there is no charge whatever for the class instruction by Conductor Herman Trutner. The next public concert will be given early in May.

At the last meeting of the orchestra the rehearsal was followed by the semi-annual social and dance in the Key Route Inn. There was a regular program contributed by members, consisting of vocal numbers, string quartets and string trios. Refreshments were served, after which dancing was indulged in until midnight.

YOUTHS REPRIMANDED. Three college youths who became exuberant at Nineteenth street and Telegraph avenue late Saturday night and decorated themselves with red, white and blue paint, with the result that they were arrested and forced to put up $16 bail each, were dismissed today after a reprimand by Prosecuting Attorney Hennessy. The youths involved gave the names of Edmund Elbert, Walter Richardson and William S. Forston.

Sick-Headache!

Dr. J. J. Caldwell says that this exceedingly distressing disease does not abate until it is cured. Sufferers from this affliction are condemned to undergo the periodical attacks every few weeks until they are forty years of age, after which the attacks are less frequent, and finally disappear entirely. Palliative measures during the attack are all that is possible to suggest, while care in the diet is the best preventive measure. An attack may be prevented by taking two anti-kamnia tablets when the first symptoms appear, and one anti-kamnia tablet every two hours during the attack shortens it, eases the pain and brings rest and quiet. Anti-kamnia tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They quickly relieve all pain.

DOUBLE MARITAL KNOT FOLLOWS ENLISTMENTS

Double weddings within forty-eight hours, both of which took place at Madera, marked the enlistment of C. A. McCumber, a University of California graduate, and W. A. Branner, former president of the University of California, in the service of their country. The "enlistment" bride who became Mrs. McCumber was formerly Miss Corinne Nesbitt, who is a Miss Branner, who is Miss Marion Easton. Both girls were cousins and lived at Madera. The newly wedded pairs are staying at the Manx Hotel in San Francisco.

The double ceremony took place after the two girls had informed their fiancés that they would cease to be matrimonial "slackers" if their prospective husbands would enlist. The boys took up the offer and made record time getting to an enlistment office.

ARLETT TELLS OF LIQUOR BATTLES

Arthur Arlett occupied the pulpit of the First Congregational church yesterday morning, in the place of the Rev. J. Van Horn, and gave an outline of the work that had been done at the present session of the State legislature by the California Anti-Saloon league, a history of the league, and a statement of what the league intended to do at its convention in Fresno in September and in the next State campaign.

Arlett, in reference to the war situation, Arlett plunged into his subject. He said: "This is in the nature of a report as to what we have done and what has been done by those who claim to represent you. While not so much has been accomplished as we would like to have, it has come to pass that in our national legislature at Washington a man can now declare himself against king alcohol and be respected and looked up to instead of being the target for abuse."

"Three important measures have been adopted by Congress at our representative, Mr. Elston, voted for all three. The District of Columbia has been voted liquor; liquor advertisements have been banned from the mails; and shipment of liquor into bone dry states has been prohibited."

WOULD MEAN SAVING. "It is now proposed and with some hope of success, to stop the manufacture and retail consumption of alcohol during the period of the war."

"Locally the best bill for the curbing of the liquor evil that has ever been presented to the State legislature has been killed by the Assembly, and we are now compelled to go to the people directly with our propositions. Exactly what form these propositions will take is still undecided. The bill will be done at the convention which will be held in Fresno in September of this year. We expect to make them reasonable and then go to the great forum of the people with them."

"The defeat of the Rominger bill was most disappointing. It was the result of many conferences between the temperance forces, who called politicians of State-wide reputation and experience, business men, and even some of the interests allied to liquor. It was a splendid piece of legislative work and reform legislation, but we were met with opposition in our own ranks. One of the finest men in the legislature voted against this bill and with the Assembly, because it did not go far enough and close all liquor places."

ALLUDES TO VOTE. "You must not forget those who stood by you and really represented you. There was Senator Reed and Assemblyman Satterwhite, both members of this church, who stood up under tremendous pressure. On the other hand there was Arnerich from Alameda and Anderson from next to us, and Bracket from this city, who were not with us. I think of it from Berkeley—who voted with the liquor interests."

"But the cry of 'it hurts business' and 'personal liberty' will not avail. 'We are paying for somebody's' 'personal liberty'—there are 47 more inmates in the Alameda county infirmary than there are in all of the almshouses of the entire State of Kansas."

TRIAL STARTED BUTTE, Mont., April 16.—The trial of the suit of the Minerals Separation Company against the Butte and Superior Mining Company, for alleged infringement of patent, is on in the federal court here. It involves millions of dollars in royalties, and is generally known as the Butte and Superior case.

A feature of the trial will be the operation in the court room of a miniature oil flotation plant, in order that the process itself, together with its evolution, may be visualized for the court. Work of the miniature plant, which it is said has been assembled during the last few months at Anaconda, was started in court several days before the opening of the trial. It is expected the trial of the case will consume at least one month.

HOME IS OFFERED

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—Mrs. Robert H. Gaylord, wealthy Pasadena society woman, has offered her beautiful home in that city as a hospital for the children of the soldiers and sailors who have entered Uncle Sam's service. Because of his engineering skill and inventive genius, Mr. Gaylord, her husband, was severely injured in a plane crash while serving in the engineering corps, U. S. A., and expects to accept immediately upon his return from a business trip to New York. In order that she will be able to give personal attention to the care of sick babies who may be brought to her "hospital," Mrs. Gaylord will take a course in Red Cross training.

FIND NO DIVER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—The Japanese Admiralty officially denied yesterday that there is a German submarine in the Pacific ocean, according to cablegrams to a local Japanese newspaper. The Pacific coast of the United States is safe from the depredations of an enemy diver by the protection of the Japanese navy, the Admiralty announced. Captain W. C. Gilman, commandant of the Twelfth Naval District, whose office on April 11 issued a warning that German submarines were believed to be operating in the Pacific, said: "I am very glad the Japanese think there are no German submarines in this ocean. We have had reports to the contrary, but none which we have been able to verify."

PLAN NEW BODY

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce has set aside Thursday, April 19, as the day to be devoted to the forming of the Insurance Federation of Alameda county. Richard L. Drake of Detroit, Michigan, will be the speaker of the occasion, and every insurance man, seller and buyer has been urged by the committee to attend the luncheon at 12:15 p. m. in the club rooms.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Favorite for Colds. J. L. Eastley, Yacon, Ill., in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says: "During the past fifteen years it has been my sister's favorite medicine for colds on the lungs. I myself have taken it a number of times when suffering with a cold and it always relieved me promptly." For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores—Advertisement.

DEATH AIM OF MOTHER FOILED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—Pale and weak after struggling back from the verge of death, Mrs. John H. Dreyer and her five weeks' old baby boy, John, are lying this morning in the same bed in the Central Emergency Hospital, but had it not been for the prompt action of neighbors yesterday afternoon they would now be cold and lifeless in a room in their home at 251 Ninth street. The odor of escaping gas attracted attention and the door was broken down just in time to prevent mother and child from succumbing to the poison.

Driven to desperation by the struggle to keep her five children together in the home, without money and with scarcely any food, Mrs. Dreyer decided to remove herself and her youngest child out of the way, and allow the four children to remain under the care of the oldest girl, Florence, who is sixteen and in the employ of a physician as maid. That her purpose was not carried out was due to the intervention of others.

Baby John was born in the San Francisco Hospital. The family has been living on the ragged edge for months, according to Mrs. Dreyer. She says that her husband, who is a drayman in the employ of a local winery, has not been giving her any money for six months, having deserted her entirely.

Mrs. Dreyer is said to be the daughter of George Castle, a wealthy iron founder of Quincy, Illinois. In 1900 she married Charles Seiden, and had two children, Florence and Opal. Sheldon deserted her and eight years ago she married Dreyer in San Francisco. Their children are Lucille, aged 3; Gussie, aged 2 and Baby John. Florence has been supporting herself and taking care of Lucille. Opal has been "boarded out" by her stepfather. In a note which Mrs. Dreyer expected would be her last message to the world she said:

"I always have been true to you."

SLAYER IS KILLED

JUNEAU, Alaska, April 16.—Edward Krause, the murderer of James O. Flinn, who saved his way out of the Juneau jail last Thursday night, was shot and killed at 2:30 p. m. by Arvid Frantgen, according to a messenger who reached here. Frantgen came across Krause at Doby's Cove, on Admiralty Island, about fifteen miles from Juneau. John. Please, now that I am gone, let Flossie have Gussie. Be good to Flossie. She is an angel and will always keep your name."

HOMES IS BURNED

NEW YORK, April 16.—Fire today swept a section of Rockaway Park, one of the finest cottage residential sections of Long Island. The flames, started in a boarding house, and, fanned by a gale, made rapid headway toward the ocean, destroying valuable houses and getting beyond the control of the Rockaway authorities. Fire apparatus has been sent from this city. The property loss thus far is estimated at several hundred thousand dollars.

More Business

The surrounding country offers many sales opportunities to the business man who takes advantage of long-distance telephone service.

"Long Distance" makes possible a personal contact with the out-of-town customer whom he seldom sees.

It is the direct and economical method of communication, that does away with the expense and delay of transacting business by mail
